SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 28, 1863

The Murder of Kendall

We have watched with some interest the action of the Court at Olympia, recently in session, in which the cause of the deplorable death of Kendall was to be investigated and confess our astonishment at learning that the person who shot him has been indicted for manslaughter only. We are always unwilling to criticise the action of Courts and Juries; we dislike in the slightest degree to shake public confidence in the tribunals which are the protection and the bulwark of private rights and of popular safety. But in this case, unless the reports as to the manner of killing, which we have had, and which have not been contradicted, are utterly false, the action of the Grand Jury has been most extraordinary. How they could arrive at the presentment which they brought into Court, we cannot conceive, as it is clearly manifest that if Howe, who shot Kendall, was not guilty of murder, he certainly cannot be justly charged with any crime, and the indictment for manslaughter looks like a desire of the Grand Jury to save him from the consequences of the terrible tragedy, while its members had not the moral courage at once to refuse to find a bill, or rather did not quite dare in the face of the testimony to perjure themselves all over, and so made a compromise, which is, in our judgment, most unfortunate and dangerous, if it becomes a precedent, as it is likely to do, in the administration of criminal law. We have heard some strange accounts of the mode of forming the Jury, tending to create the belief that the purpose of certain parties, who were not sorry that Kendall was put out of the way, if indeed, they did not have a hand in his death, was carefully planned in advance, to secure the result, which has been effected. If this is so it is deeply to be regretted, and we are sure that these very persons will have occasion, as the consequences of their course are manifested, to curse the day when they made the Courts the arena of their political games, and used their machinery for the protection of criminals, even though these last had been their tools in enacting violence and bloodshed.

Kendall was doubtless indiscreet, and perhaps conducted as wrongly as his bitterest opponents insist, but all that did not justify his murder, and his blood cries from the ground, not only against the agent, who shed it, but also against the cooler and more deliberate villains whose hands lacked the firmness and the force to do the deed which their black hearts desired and contrived.

NEWS FROM THE UPPER COUNTRY.—The following items we take from the Mountaineer, of March 27th:

Several pack trains have left within the last few days for Auburn, the trail to that place being open. Yesterday morning we noticed quite a large train fitting out at Fitzgerald's for Auburn, and we are told that orders from that locality are coming in rapidly.

We understand that the steamer Dalles, formerly of the opposition line, has been bought by the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. It has been thought that the Dalles would run on the opposition line this summer, but she is effectually corraled by the old line and hence for the future may be considered out of the ring.

A man named Carroll, employed on board the steamer Spray as a fireman, died very suddenly at Wallula, on Wednesday night. He was taken sick on the upward passage of the boat, but after being put to bed, and restoratives applied, he appeared to improve. About ten o'clock he jumped out of his berth and rushing up on deck, almost immediately expired. Deceased was about thirty years of age, and was in the employ of the O. S. N. Company at the time of his death.

A gentleman just down from Lewiston informs us that last week snow fell to the depth of eighteen inches on the mountains back of that place. The Snake river was about two feet above the low water mark of last year. Business at Lewiston was very dull. Not a single pack train had come in from Florence, Elk City or any of the mining camps that depend upon Lewiston for their supplies, and trade was not expected to stir for a month to come.

We learn that an affray came off at Celilo on Wednesday last, in which a man named Kimmel discharged his revolver three times at the engineer of the Cascadilla, named Underwood. It appears that Kimmel is a joint owner of the boat, and the quarrel originated in a dispute about partnership property. The only injury sustained by Underwood was a slight wound in one of his hands. Kimmel was arrested, and at last accounts was awaiting the arrival of the Sheriff to bring him to town.

IDLE GENERALS COSTING $100,000 A MONTH.—Eight Major Generals—Burnside, McClellan, Fremont, Buell, McDowell, Sumner, Franklin and C. M. Clay—and eighteen Brigadier Generals are now without command.—They are all drawing pay from the Government, exceeding $100,000 per month, and it seems a pity where there is so much to do that some [illegible] of them cannot be set at work. There are numerous fields of action which would give ample scope to the talents and energies of any one of them. Cassius M. Clay never had a command although he has held a commission nearly ten months, and drawn about $4,400 from the treasury.

Of the Brigadiers General Harney has not been on duty since June 1861, although paid nearly $5,000 by the Government. Counting the idle Generals and the time lost by those absent on leave, the public purse pays for a great deal of this class military service which is not rendered.

Letter from Auburn

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

AUBURN, March 17, 1863.

We have Spring at last, and the fast melting of the snow gives us an earnest that winter is over, and that our miners will soon reap a reward for their labors. Mining will soon commence in many localities, and by the first of April the whole region of mountains about us will resound to the sounds of labor [illegible] yield rich returns [illegible] your correspondent has no doubt [illegible] to chronicle ere long of rich nuggets and "big strikes."

The season from the present appearances is at least a month in advance of the last Spring. Then we found the snow not gone about Auburn on the first of May, when from present appearances the first of April will see our hills very nearly bare.

There is nothing of especial importance transpiring here. The Boise travel still pours forward, and the ferry of Olds & Co., on Snake river is said to receive some $100 per day in payment of tolls. Those who come back report good grass along the route most of the way.

We have two new items of interest. A party has lately returned from the Eagle Mountains with considerable gold and favorable reports of the district they have discovered. It seems that last December these men forming a small party bound for Boise with provisions for the winter stopped to prospect these mountains on their way. The Eagle Mountains bound Grand Ronde and Powder river vallies on the North East, and form a mountain barrier between these vallies and Snake river, and it is, I believe, claimed that another valley exists among them, quite equal to Grand Ronde in extent and fertility. Our party were bound for Brownlee's ferry, the lowermost upon Snake river, which lies below Powder river a short distance below the point of those mountains. When within three miles of the ferry in a beautiful valley there found near or on Powder river they ascended a creek some fifteen miles where they were snowed in and were obliged to winter amid snows fifteen feet deep. Here they remained during the months of December, January and February. Only being able to travel on the snow about the first of March, when they astonished a party returning from Boise, by their appearance gliding down the mountain sides on snow shoes. It seems that their animals had died and that they had hewn out some sluice boxes with their axes and worked a little in one gulch, where they found good prospects. They showed some gold saved from a few average pans appearing to be from 12½ to 25 cents each. I am sorry I cannot substitute dollar marks for cents, but truth is required, and cents it was. One of these men laid out $400 here in provisions and supplies as his share, and they have all quietly laid in their stores and have returned to the same locality confident that their claims are rich. I know nothing of their coming until after they had gone again. A prospecting party, including a friend of mine, left for that place to-day, and will make a thorough prospect before their return, when I will write you further. I believe I have been all winter predicting good discoveries to be made in Baker county this Spring.

Then we have to-day an express from Boise, which brings us dispatches from the volunteers under Jeff. Standafer. Some 56 in number, who after being some ten days out, found a band of 40 Indians forted up somewhere on the east side of Boise river.—These warriors belonged to the Bannock band of Shoshones, and had erected a stone fortification, behind which they offered battle against the superior numbers of their assailants. They were well armed and had dug rifle pits, so that it appears the Bannocks are posted in modern warfare. The inventive genius of the Captain or of some of his men, found a remedy for this. Perhaps they had the siege of Lexington in view. Be that as it may, they bound large bundles of willows together and rolled them up, a la Price, towards the fort, and after a siege and bombardment of near three days, the enemy were defeated and the greater portion of them killed. The party brought home many scalps and 36 captured horses, and of course are covered with glory. It is to be hoped that this will tend to improve the morals of "Lo! the poor Indian!" and cure him somewhat of horse stealing. I must not forget to mention that only one of the volunteers was wounded, and he not severely—in the neck.

I hear no other news from Boise of particular importance. From Auburn and its vicinity nothing new transpiring, only that the weather is delightful, the sun warm and the prospect of good times not far distant. The "winter of our discontent" will soon be among the things that have been.

Desiring to preserve a good reputation for veracity, I will leave the field of fancy,—and sometimes extravagant fancy too,—open to others, as I have seen correspondence from here in other papers, that comes back to the people of Auburn with refreshing newness, not being recognized as facts by any one.—Rich accounts for instance in quartz operations, wherein I am one of those principally interested, quite new to me. Well! "Every thing goes," as the saying is here.

PARSON BROWNLOW.—Parson Brownlow writes to the Cincinnati Commercial saying that he learns that the vile traitor, E. Kirby Smith, has evacuated his (Brownlow's) house in Knoxville, and that the rebel authorities rented it to the negroes of the place for a negro ball on a large scale during the Christmas holidays. The Parson thus comments:

"Mine is a large and commodious dwelling, with two large rooms on the first floor separated by a hall or passage in the centre, and I should say as well adapted to the purpose of a dance and a feast. My greatest objection to the use made of the house, on this occasion is the requiring the negroes to pay rent and then using the money for the benefit of the corrupt government of Jeff Davis.

That a negro dance to the tune of 'Pop goes the Weasel' would be more acceptable in the eyes and ears of High Heaven than pretended religious services conducted by one of the hypocritical chaplains in the Southern army, or one of the lying, whisky drinking clergymen of the South concerned in getting up this rebellion, I have not a shadow of doubt. At least I prefer their using my house for a negro dance to their meeting in it to mock God and burlesque religion by pretending to conduct religious exercises."

COLORED CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS.—The Confederate Attorney General has decided that men with any portion of the blood of the white race are liable to conscription. This brings into the rebel army all the mulattoes and quadroons in the Confederacy, and they are numbered by thousands. We suppose there is barely an officer in the rebel army from Richmond to Mobile, past the meridian of life, who has not one or more mulatto children. All these chaps according to the Attorney General's decision are to be made fight side by side with the white conscripts of Davidson, Williamson, Maury and Shelby counties, to destroy the Federal Union. Negro sharpshooters have for months been destroying our soldiers in Virginia.—Nashville Union.

GOOD HITS.—A good hit was made by Senator Collamer of Vermont, when in answer to Senator Powell of Kentucky (about as rank a rebel in theory as any follower of Jeff Davis) he said:

The Senator seemed to think there must be no coercion to preserve the Government, but others thought differently. The last President of the United States (Mr Buchanan) held that no State had a right to secede, but that nobody had any right to prevent them. That was thought to be something new, but wasn't. It was as old as Dogberry's instructions to the watch. [illegible] bid them stand in the Prince's name, and if they would not stand, to let them go, and be thankful they had got rid of a villain. The Senator from Kentucky would have forced us to carry out the laws [illegible] Government or men to preserve its own struggle for life.

Mr. Shellabarger of Ohio, in the House, also hit the nail on the head, as well [illegible] the House, [illegible] characterizing the frothy declamations of Vallandigham and Cox.

He asked by what name history would call such truthless assaults upon our Government and institutions? They were not called treason, although they might destroy the Government, because treason was held at least to the hazard of crime. These attacks were there [illegible] was no skull or reward [illegible] attacks argument—a contest [illegible] intellect. They were the truthless drivellings of insanity as it stands vacant and cries out [illegible] muttering to catch passers by its incoherent twaddle.

The same gentleman pilloried his [illegible] colleague as one of the deadliest, as well as one of the meanest foes of the country. [illegible]

He would say to Mr. Vallandigham, who plumed himself on his foresight in foretelling failure, and he would call heaven and earth to witness the truth of his prediction, that if we should fail to deliver the Government from rebellion against the right of popular suffrage and republican institutions, and the rights of the poor man, then the failure would be due to the efforts here to alienate the people of the Government from its support, and if the [illegible] purpose of Northern conspirators should at last be realized, history would record high on the rolls of this infamy the name of him who made these promises to rebellion.

DIVIDE AND CONQUER.—A divided North is the great hope of the rebels. This is the last card of the desperate gamesters who rule at Richmond. Upon this they rely more than upon the prowess of their arms. In this they see the sign by which they are to conquer.

This indeed has been their hope from the beginning. For this they have labored since the first outbreak of the rebellion. This was one of the chief agencies upon which they counted in balancing the chances of success. Upon this they predicated a speedy and easy triumph. They affected to see infallible tokens of social strife in our midst. They insolently counted upon an alliance with one of the great parties into which the people of the North are divided. They predicted that blood would flow in our streets before the Government should be allowed to strike a single blow at the rebellion.

The uprising that followed the fall of Sumter disenchanted them. They were disappointed, but they did not despair. They were crestfallen, but they did not abandon the hope of conquering through our divisions. They set to work to poison the fountains of public opinion, not only in Europe but in the North. They sent their emissaries among us. They subsidized Northern prints. They had their creatures in Congress, in State Legislatures, in posts of trust and observation everywhere. They ran conventions; they established secret lodges; they drew up party platforms; they inspired party policies. They whispered discouraging words into the ears of the timid; they offered tempting bribes to the ambitious and venal.

Recent successes have emboldened the enemy in their efforts to distract and divide us. They no longer even try to mask their operations. They openly proclaim their "mission." They insolently flaunt the premium which they propose to pay upon disloyalty and defection in the free States. The rebel chief makes an open bid for the alliance of the Northwest and complacently assures us that the consummation is only a question of time.

Shall the hopes of traitors based upon our folly and our madness be realized? Shall their predictions that they would first divide and afterwards destroy us, be fulfilled? Shall their efforts to turn our strength against ourselves succeed? Shall their boasts that they would play upon our folly so far as to make us forget the common enemy in our own partizan quarrels be made good? Patriots of the loyal States! Are you willing to become instruments in the hands of Southern traitors and their Northern allies for the destruction not only of the Government founded by WASHINGTON, but for the destruction of your liberties as well?—Albany Evening Journal.

THEATRE.—We understand (not being permitted to attend ourself) that a very fair house witnessed the rendition of the beautiful play of "Ingomar," last night, at the Willamette Theater, and that each member of the company acquited themselves in their several characters very creditably and pleasing to the audience. To-night, the great tragedy of "Metamora, or the last of the Wampanoags," will, for the first time in this city, be produced, in which Mr. and Mrs. Waldron, Mrs. Mortimore, Thayer, Lindsay, and others will appear in their favorite characters. As this piece is full of historical incidents connected with the early settlement of the American continent by the whites, we doubt not it will prove highly interesting and instructive to the audience. A crowded house is anticipated.

SUSPENSION OF DAILY MAIL.—We learn by a gentleman just from Olympia, that Mr. H. Windsor, contractor on daily mail route from Monticello to Olympia, has announced his determination to suspend the carrying of the daily mails and change the same to a tri-weekly mail, from and after the first day of April, proximo. This is in consequence of inability to keep up with his expenses while greenbacks are at their present low stage.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.—We are pleased to learn that Major Goldsborough, U. S. Revenue Collector, has appointed Mr. T. F. McElroy, of Olympia, Deputy Collector for the county of Nez Perces, which includes Lewiston and vicinity. Mr. McElroy is now en route for that locality.

WHAT CHEER HOUSE.—It will be observed by reference to our new advertisements, that this excellent and popular establishment offers superior advantages in accommodations for boarders and travelers. Strangers coming to our city, will always find this place to be one of the best and well regulated hotels in the city.

During the late caucus in Sacramento, resulting in the election of John Conness for U. S. Senator, it was easy to detect if a country member had paid a visit to the Bay. Hon. gentlemen became discontented with their appearance after seeing the style of garments prepared of Heuston, Hastings & Co., Lick House, San Francisco, and were not long in the city before consulting the refined taste of the gentlemanly and attentive assistants of this enterprising firm. No misfits or inferior goods are turned out of their establishment. They could not afford it.

Dr. Hall's Balsam.—The astonishing success of this medicine in the different stages of Consumption is owing to its peculiar healing qualities, and being entirely free from Opium, it produces no reaction or unpleasant sensations. Ample testimony from well known citizens will be found in the pamphlets, to be had of the Agents gratis.

Storage.—THE FIRE-PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building, "not made of wood," at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although storage in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton, yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

The New Market on Front street, No. 2, Couch's Addition, is now opened by Messrs. DOCTOR VAN ZANDT, CONSULTING PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
Office, Corner of Washington and Sansome streets, San Francisco.

The GREAT SUCCESS of the CENTURY as an AID to PRACTICAL MEDICINE.

The Mysterious Problem of Material Nature, Electricity, made subservient for the Cure of all Nervous and Spinal Disease.

THAT THIS PRINCIPLE SUCCESSFULLY APPLIED to the various stages of the system, and [illegible] the most sought for necessity [illegible] by physicians, [illegible] their remedies in [illegible] all functional derangements of the human body. It is a part of that great principle of vital [illegible] nervous influence, and necessarily must have much to do in elevating diseased action.

Too Much Cannot be Said

In its praise, for it is highly probable that in health there is an exact equilibrium of the Electric principle, and should this secret and sudden equipoise of health be broken [illegible] lower—should the body be negatively electrified when it should be positively charged—is not the current broken, and is there not a war of forces going on in the system? This needs correcting, and in order that the forces of the body should be perfect, [illegible] remedial agents, we must first restore [illegible]

Awaken the Magnetic Life within us

The spinal and sympathetic nerve systems. Believing, as I do most firmly in the great magnetic or electrical influence of the earth, with its influence upon our bodies in health and disease, I am glad to take advantage of the [illegible], through which to awaken attention to the subject, that good may come to all.

No Compromise with Disease.

Give the body strength, and nature will relieve herself. Purify the life blood, render the stomach, liver, heart, kidney and all the natural functions active by ELECTRICAL excitation, and at once the aged, the palsied, the nervous, the dispirited, the melancholic, the dyspeptic and the invalid revive under its benign influence.

To the Ladies of California.

Dr. Van Zandt's success with complaints of women, both in family and office practice, is owing to his correct views of the origin of all their maladies. Ladies can consult him with entire confidence, as he is no speculator upon human ills—but is proving himself the only member of the legitimate profession in California who is really successful in removing those ills which are the peculiar province of the sex. His high appreciation of their delicately attuned nervous organism, together with their great sympathetic life, renders him readily able to assuage those silent complainings which they bear so patiently and so long. No social disquietude need longer affect our home circles, for he can awaken the stricken energies, restore the wasted tonicity of the body; awaken the melancholic and desponding; arrest those drains which cause so much anxiety; cure those protean maladies which have so long Baffled the Skill of Physicians.

Develope appetite, life and animation, dispel nervous headache, sinking at the stomach, wandering pains, wasting away of strength; extreme debility and lifelessness, hectic cough, sleeplessness, unpleasant dreams and that general depression of life's powers, which go to render her life a misery and death a boon. Dr. Van Zandt, with his new method of exciting the Electro-Galvanic current, together with his remedial measures which are adapted to the necessities of California, will assure you of a complete and radical recovery of all bodily and mental infirmities, and will restore you to usefulness, and spare you a blessing to your family and society.

All the world over

wherever disease exists, whether special to the soil and climate or common to all regions—epidemic or casual, acute or chronic, contagious or non-contagious—it is as necessary to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium, especially in California, as it is to give food to the starving. This statement is based upon a series of facts extending through many years, and verified by hundreds of patients; so that no principle of science, no rule of experience, no result of any well known cause, rests upon more sure and unassailable footing than those which underlie the world-wide reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous states of the body, faulty digestion, mental and physical debility or prostration, coughs, asthma, wandering pains of a rheumatic, gouty or neuralgical character, and all forms of disease, the result of scrofula or cachectic habit of body.

None Need Despair of Relief!

If you have ulcers which will not heal—pains that cannot be removed—melancholy which you cannot shake off—loss of power which you cannot regain—depression of spirits which weigh you down—wakefulness that knows no sleeping—business that languishes for want of energy—a void which no society can fill—suspicion which no assurance can allay—Go to Dr. Van Zandt, for his great success and the safety with which he administers his new method of electrical excitation, together with his remedies, which are adapted to the requirements of climate and constitution, will assure you of a complete and radical removal of all bodily and mental infirmities, within the scope of science and man to remove.

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr. Van Zandt has made these afflictions an especial study, and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice. Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action, and are cured by his electro-galvanic battery—as amaurosis, squinting, cataract, floating specks before the vision, twitching of the eyelids, nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears, giddiness, etc. All operations successfully done on those delicate organs of sense.

Caught a Tartar — A Washington correspondent of the Buffalo Express relates the following anecdote of a distinguished General of the Army and one of the many fools who have received commissions in the army during the present war

A few weeks since I was a passenger on a train of cars between Baltimore and Washington, upon which occasion a scene occurred that attracted my attention and which exemplified the fact that retribution is sometimes more speedy than it is expected We had proceeded on our journey for half an hour when loud talking and profanity excited the attention of the passengers to a part of the car where sat quietly an elderly man wrapped in a liberal overcoat

A large sized red faced and very voluble person of [illegible] years was standing in the aisle near him using violent language and gesticulations attended with the charge oft repeated that the old gentleman had taken his seat during his temporary absence therefrom, and demanding with language more pungent than polite that it should be relinquished to him

In response to this demand the old gentleman in a very quiet and dignified manner, assured the applicant for the seat that he was mistaken—that he had occupied that seat from the start and could not and should not relinquish it This excited the anger of the contestant, and he became very abusive and boisterous

At this juncture, two persons occupying the next seat interposed assuring the ferocious man that he was mistaken that they had entered the car at the last stopping place, and found the seat they occupied then vacant and took it, presuming that it was not taken It was probably the one he had occupied and they were ready to relinquish it, and immediately rose and did so

The ferocious man then seized the seat and threw the back over that he might face the old gentleman to whom he paid his respects in the first instance with the purpose no doubt, of cultivating his acquaintance more intimately In performing this manœuvre, he threw his overcoat open, so as to disclose the shoulder straps of a Captain This attracted the attention of the other party when the following colloquy, as near as I can recollect it, ensued —

Old Gentlemen—"By what right do you wear that insignia?" pointing at the same time to the revealed shoulder straps

Ferocious Man—"By the authority of the United States Government I am an officer of the army, and have fought and shed my blood for my country, while such rich old codgers as you are lazing about at your ease, and taking up other people's seats in railroad cars, while patriots, sir, like me do the fighting"

Then came a change in the scene The old gentleman threw back his overcoat, revealing the stars of a Major General of the U S Army, and saying to the Captain in a firm but dignified tone "I am General Couch, sir, and I order you under arrest for ungentlemanly and unofficer-like conduct You will proceed to Washington under my escort"

The ferocious man was tamed in a moment and attempted to offer an awkward apology, but he was cut short by the General, and seemed to enjoy the comfort of his own meditations for the remainder of the journey towards the Capitol. I heard a day or two after, that the ferocious man was a resident of Buffalo, and had returned home minus a commission and the insignia which betrayed him — Evidently he caught a Tartar

French Love —In the latest register of French loves and conjugal disasters, it is stated that the youthful bride of a well known banker's son-in law, who had eloped with the receiver general of Tours, has returned from her little journey perfectly disgusted with the experiment, and perfectly restored to her sense of duty and affection for her husband by the singular wit displayed by the latter, which showed at once his superiority over the man for whom she had deserted him At the moment of elopement the gay lothario wrote a line to the injured husband, giving notice of the destination the fugitives were about to seek, and offering to bestow any reparation of honor which the husband might choose to demand; whereupon the latter immediately dispatched an envelope containing ten bank notes of a thousand francs each, with a short, pithy letter, saying that, as he knew by sad experience, the extravagant habits of his fair traveling companion he was afraid lest for want of funds he might be induced to turn back, and begging his acceptance of the sum mentioned, to meet some little portion of the expense he had entailed upon himself by association with such a terrible spendthrift as the fair lady he had chosen The laugh is wholly on the side of the husband, while the poor victorious lover sneaks about crest fallen having lost place, preferment, honor and reputation

Secrets of Freemasonry —Freemasonry said Benjamin Franklin, I admit has its secrets. It has secrets peculiar to itself but of what do these principally consist? They consist of signs and tokens which serve as testimonials of character and qualifications which are conferred after a due course of instruction and examination they are of no small value, they speak a universal language, and are a passport to the support of the whole world They cannot be lost so long as memory retains its power Let the possessor of them be expatriated shipwrecked or imprisoned, let him be stripped of everything he has in the world, still these credentials remain, and are available for us as circumstances may require The good effects which they produced are established by the incontestible facts of history They have stayed the uplifted hand of the destroyer, they have softened the aspirations of the tyrant they have subdued the rancor of malevolence, and broken down the barrier of political animosity and sectional alienation On the field of battle, in the solitudes of the uncultivated forest or in the busy haunts of the crowded city they make men of most hostile feelings and the most diversified conditions, rush to the aid of each other with special joy and satisfaction that they have been able to afford relief to a brother Mason

"Don't Cry Sonny —A few days since the wife of a worthy mechanic in one of our machine shops was taken very sick, the immediate occasion of the sickness being a design to change the figures of the census The lady in question is of large stature, whilst her "liege lord" is one of those specimens of humanity that are sometimes done up in small bundles

Matters were approaching a crisis in the sick chamber and the paterfamilias that was to be, was seated by the stove overcome with woe in dread of an unfavorable termination

His face was buried in his hands and he was sobbing aloud The doctor, touched with this exhibition of affectionate sorrow stepped up to the mourner and patting him on the head, said "There there, don't cry sonny, your mother will be better soon

The chair was kicked over in an instant, and the "boy" started up with clenched fists and wrathful eyes, Sonny you impertinent jackass! I'm her husband!

The astonished medicine man' rushed around to the other side of the bed and hadn't a word to say He had said to much as it was.—Ex

General Orders No 11] The following Proclamation of the President of the United States and the General orders based thereon are published for the benefit of all concerned

Washington March 10 186[illegible]

1 —In pursuance of the twenty sixth section of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act for enrolling and calling out the National forces and for other purposes" approved March 3d 1863 I Abraham Lincoln President and Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States do order by order and command that all soldiers enlisted or drafted into the service of the United States now absent from their regiments without leave shall forthwith return to their respective regiments and I do hereby declare and proclaim that all soldiers now absent from their respective regiments without leave who shall on or before the 1st day of April 1863, report themselves at any rendezvous designated by the General Orders of the War Department No 58 hereto annexed may be restored to their respective regiments, without punishment except the forfeiture of pay and allowances during their absence, and all who do not return within the time specified shall be arrested as deserters and punished as the law provides and whereas evil disposed and disloyal persons, at sundry places have enticed and procured soldiers to desert, and absent themselves from their regiment, thereby weakening the strength of the armies and prolonging the war—giving aid and comfort to the enemy, and cruelly exposing the gallant and faithful soldiers remaining in the ranks to increased hardships and dangers I do therefore call upon all patriotic and faithful citizens, to oppose and resist the aforementioned dangerous and treasonable crime and to aid in restoring to their regiments all soldiers absent without leave and to assist in the execution of the Act of Congress for enrolling and calling out the National forces and for other purposes," and to support the proper authorities in the prosecution and punishment of offenders against said act, in suppressing the insurrection and rebellion

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand

Done at the City of Washington this 10th day of March, 1863, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty seventh

(Signed) Abraham Lincoln

II —The following places are designated as rendezvous, to which soldiers absent without leave may report themselves, to the officers named, on or before the first day of April next under the Proclamation of the President of this date To the commanding officer at Fort Vancouver, Washington Territory or to the commanding officer of any military post or officers in charge of recruiting

III —Commanding officers at the above named places of rendezvous or in the absence of commanding officers, superintendents of recruiting services, recruiting officers and mustering and disbursing officers will take charge of all soldiers, presenting themselves as above directed and cause their names to be enrolled, and copy of said roll, will on or before the 10th day of April, be sent to the Adjutant General of the Army The soldiers so reporting themselves will be sent without delay to their several regiments A list of those sent being furnished to the commanding officer of the regiment, and a duplicate to the Adjutant General of the Army The commanding officer of the regiment will immediately report to the Adjutant General of the Army, the receipt of any soldier so sent to him

From the Rev Dr Hawkes of the Methodist Epis. Church.

Pulaski House, Savannah Ga, Jan 6, 1856.

Honored Sir I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism Notwithstanding I had the best physicians the disease grew worse and worse until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore Dr W[illegible] I tried your Pills Their effects were slow but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

Senate Chamber, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec, 1855.

Dr. Ayer I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout — a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge they are an excellent remedy

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known Nay few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures Keep it by you and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders and as they know too the virtues of this remedy we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
